

Dear business owner,

Please allow us to introduce the Randolph Foundation for Education (RFE). Our mission is to provide private funding for the Randolph public schools. Our first program is "Teacher Mini-Grants" to provide funding for teachers implementing innovations in their classrooms. We enclose an article about one of our grant recipients; we hope to award a dozen grants by the end of 2023.

And that's where your business comes in. The RFE raises our grant money from donations from Randolph businesses, and 100% of donations go to programs (we fund our own expenses from other sources). We publicize donor businesses on our website and will do so in future articles, too.

The RFE provides your business with an opportunity to connect with the students of the Randolph public schools, and their families, who make up some of your customer base. And your donation will help improve the Randolph public schools.

Could we visit your business and ask for a donation? Or feel free to use the donation form on the back of this letter.

Sincerely,

Jesse Gordon, board member,
